ANOTHER GUN FROM THE WEST

The Republicans of Illinois have held their state convention at Springfield, and have followed in the wake of Michigan and Iowa. They declare for the old Republican doctrines, and give another cheering word to the Republicans of the south. Their resolutions announce that the southern Republicans must be protected in the right to vote, and in all rights. They shout and scoff at the miserable twaddlers about the "bloody shirt," with which every southern Bourbon uses to frost northern dough faces and flunkies.

FROM WASHINGTON.

(Special Correspondent to the Post.)

ANDERSON'S EARLY WASHINGTON HISTORY—WORTHLESS CHARACTER OF SOME WASHINGTON LABOR REFORMERS—REPRESENTATIVE BRODGEN AND THE ARMY BILL—HON. J. M. LEACH WRESTLES MIGHTILY WITH UNITED STATES ENGLISH—SOME TOUCHING EVIDENCES OF DEMOCRATIC HARMONY—THE LADY CLERKS NOT ALLOWED TO PAY POLITICAL ASSESSMENTS—COL. R. M. DOUGLASS RE-NOMINATED.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 27, '78.

A few words about the earlier history of Louisiana Anderson in Washington will be of interest. He came to Washington with the present administration. His record was to the effect that he had done the Republican cause great service and was in danger of losing his life.

HON. J. M. LEACH.

We take pleasure in correcting a misstatement in our issue of the 20th, in regard to this gentleman. Seeing the article, and being in the city he called, and stated, that there is not a word of truth in the article, including himself and challenging the proof that he ever gave an illiberal vote while a member of Congress, before and since the war; or a vote that smacked, the slightest, of demagogism; and declares that the public Journals of his State, the Records of Congress will prove the contrary. He does, claim to have had the taxes on tobacco reduced while in Congress, as the Record shows.

It is quite apparent, even if the Hon.

John is the "boss" statesman of North Carolina that he had better employ the printer's devil of the next printing office to favor him with his puffs for himself to review them and make them plain to common people.

North Carolina gets three of the new money order office's to be added to the list July first, of this year.

The Democratic organ here goes for the greenback success of Gen. Sam Ewing, of Ohio, with great vigor. "But for Gen. Ewing and his implacable opposition to everything but the wildest kind of financial theories, the advocates of a sensible greenback policy would, by this time, have been in possession of all the legislation they have claimed as desirable for the country." So says the organ in its desire to find a scape goat somewhere. After by—if he had to steal it. Whereupon there was a unanimous shout that he would certainly take the easiest way to get that or any other sum. All of these remarks seemed to be taken as comments by Anderson.

That day he went on a big spree. He said he had been from Ohio, and hinted that he must not be known as coming from Louisiana. He was asked what title he had to be credited to that state. His reply was that he had passed through the state two or three times by rail, and added, "by God, I once jumped a bounty from Cincinnati."

One of the proof readers, who was personally acquainted with the President, at once sent a note to President Hayes, telling him of Anderson's conduct and his general reputation in the Government Printing office. He was asked to speak on the President. During the interview the note was written by this gentleman, Col. A. J. Straight, which was sent to Mr. Seward, and has since been printed in the evidence. It was found that Anderson's commission had been made out and sent to him that evening. A messenger was sent to find him and recover it; the President having directed that it should at once be recalled. Anderson, who was floating around the city, "getting on a big drunk," was not found until early the next morning, at which time he was still drunk. When the messenger asked him for his commission, he at once gave it to him. Mr. Seward then revoked it. The story that he refused it is one of his characteristic lies. Col. Straight, at the request of the President, then saw Stanley Matthews, and gave him Anderson's real history. From that time dates the efforts of Mr. Matthews to recover his letters from Anderson. It has since transpired that at the time he was appointed to Funchal he was intriguing with the Democrats, and that he also expected to sell his story to the New York Sun for money to pay his expenses to his station.

Anderson took in one man, Stanley Matthews, from the Republican party; but he "scopped" in the whole Democratic party. The Potter investigation committee is already sick of the whole business. Their labors no longer attract any serious attention.

Isaac Cohen and his next friend, a Dr. Lawrence, talk of a coming monster gathering of 100,000 working men in this city. I have known Dr. Lawrence by sight and by reputation for years. All accounts agree that Cohen is another of the same stripe, namely, an unmitigated blatherskite who makes a precarious living off any reform that may temporarily come uppermost. How the laboring men of this District could be so imposed upon as they have been by these men, is a mystery.

Why Representative Brodgen, who managed to maintain a masterly inactivity during the whole session of Congress, should have waked up long enough to vote against the army bill, is a mystery to Republicans here. May be he has some reasons to give to the Republicans of North Carolina that will be interesting reading here. The columns of the Post would be a good medium for what now seems a needless explanation.

The Republicans of this city charged the Hon. J. M. Leach with being a demagogue. He called upon the editor of that paper and himself wrote out what he thought to be a candid retraction of the charge. It was printed in full just as he left it. Here it is:

HON. J. M. LEACH.

"The South Atlantic" has commenced publishing political articles. It has one in this week, styled Hampton's campaign in South Carolina, and we suppose it will have Vance's campaign in 1876, in North Carolina next:

The Democratic organ here goes for the greenback success of Gen. Sam Ewing, of Ohio, with great vigor. "But for Gen. Ewing and his implacable opposition to everything but the wildest kind of financial theories, the advocates of a sensible greenback policy would, by this time, have been in possession of all the legislation they have claimed as desirable for the country." So says the organ in its desire to find a scape goat somewhere. After showing to its satisfaction that the burden of many Democratic financial sins of omission and commission should be laid at Mr. Voorhees' door, he is given this parting shot:

"He belongs to a class of public men who throw away their influence, and often give valuable aid to their opponents by persistent advocacy of visionary schemes and bull-headed antagonism of such practical measures as command the approval of all but extremists."

Thus has another great Democratic apostle gone to glory. The same gentle Democratic demolisher of reputations is now whetting his knife to raise the political hair of the young and athletic Alexander H. Stephens, because he opposed the folly of the Potter investigation and has the pluck to go home and stick to his opinions giving ample reasons for the faith that is in him. Turning his attention to another famous Democrat, the same paper gently says:

"So far as Glover is concerned, outside of his vote he hasn't as much influence in Congress as one of the tow-headed boys who run at his bidding."

Then, having got its hand fairly in reply to some one who wanted to know why the Democrats "bounced" Doorkeeper Polk, if his reputation was spotless, it replies:

"He was bounced to gratify a long pent and long restrained inclination on the part of Carter Harrison to kick something."

"Birds in their little nests agree."

Once sang old Dr. Watt's, or somebody. But, it may be, that Tilden Democrats are not that kind of birds.

The Secretary of the Republican Congressional committee has forbidden the collection of money from the lady clerks in the Departments. In those cases where they have been asked, and have paid, the money has been refunded.

One of the most gratifying items of North Carolina politics that has recently come to any notice, is that of the nomination of Col. R. M. Douglass to be United Marshal for the Western District of North Carolina. It is known here that he had the endorsement of the members of the bar in his district, add of leading Democrats and Republicans all over the state. It is more noticed because it is said that the Hon. O. H. Dockery was an active applicant for the place.

Mr. Wilson received 10 votes out of the 16 cast in the convention. We suppose the Burgaw convention will be held and a nomination will also be made thereon Tuesday, but as Mr. Wilson received so large a majority here on yesterday, it is very likely that he will be renominated there also. We will have more to say about this matter in our next.

THE WILMINGTON POST.

W. P. CANADAY,
Editor and Proprietor.

WILMINGTON, N. C.,
SUNDAY MORNING, JUNE 30, 1878

The River and Harbor Bill was permitted to pass the House this year with only $85,000 for the Cape Fear River. In the Senate the amount was increased to $160,000, through the influence of Senator Ransom. We have never understood the reason why Mr. Waddell has treated uniformly the appropriation for our Harbor with so great indifference. It has been uniform that our appropriation has dragged in the House and been secured in the Senate. The very first appropriation since the war, obtained by Senator Abbott received next to no aid from any North Carolina member of the House, and there has never been a time when a bill came from the House with the amount ultimately appropriated.

The National Republican speaking editorial of ex-Governor Brodgen says: "While the Republicans of North Carolina are looking over the ground, preparatory to the coming campaign, they should not forget the fact that ex-Governor Brodgen, their only Representative in the House, did one thing, and one thing only, to attract attention to him during the session just closed. That one thing was to vote with the Democrats on the army bill. Brodgen's district is largely Republican naturally, and has in it many men of either color capable of representing it with much more credit than he has earned or deserved. He is a good second rate farmer, is Brodgen, and should be allowed to return to his plow. So long as he is attached to an implement of that kind, drawn by a mule in rope harness, he is in his proper sphere."

We can assure our contemporaries that the Republicans of North Carolina by no means endorse the course of ex-Governor Brodgen in Congress. They strongly disapprove of the votes he cast on the army bill and other measures where he voted with the Democratic party. The Republicans of the Second District have many able men, who will, if elected to Congress, act with and stand by the union party in maintaining the integrity of the government. One of them will in our judgment be requested to accept the position.

LIGHT FROM THE WEST.

The Post has already noticed the clear notes which were sounded from the state convention of the Michigan Republicans where the old war-horse, Zach Chandler, one of the noblest and boldest of American statesmen, presided. Another of the old leaders, ex-Senator James Harlan, who was a member of Lincoln's Cabinet, stepped to the front at the state Republican convention of Iowa held at Des Moines on the 19th of June, as the presiding officer. From that body also came clarion notes. Its declarations have flashed across the continent like an electrical light, and filled with a new inspiration the hearts of the stalwart Republicans. To the southern Republicans those utterances from the west are especially grateful. We of the south in these late demoralized years have received so much of unfriendly criticism, of misrepresentation and of downright impudence from northern Republican presses and orators that such language as is uttered from Iowa is especially grateful to our wearied ears. As baly as the southern Republican symposium has been called by the complaints against us from ignorant and prejudiced pretenders friends in the north, as cavalierly as we have been snubbed in high quarters, as unjustly as we have been treated by the present administration, the notes from our friends in Iowa float down upon us like the old blast of the trumpet-like delicious strains of melody.

In order that there may be no misunderstanding as to what the Post means by the above remarks we copy a portion of the platform of the Republicans of Iowa:

First.—The United States are a nation not a league. Both State and National Governments should give ample and complete protection to its citizens either at home or abroad, against the assaults of traitors and rebels.

Second.—That these truths may be fully realized, the Republican party of Iowa demands that every qualified elector in every state, south or north, Democrat or Republican, black or white, shall be permitted, undisturbed by force and unawed by fear, to vote at all elections, at the place prescribed by law, and no where else, just once and no more than once, and that every vote so cast shall be honestly counted; that every person chosen by such votes to any office shall be freely inducted into it and effectively supported in the discharge of its duties, and every well-informed person knows that with such freedom of elective action and honest administration as are herein demanded, at least five of the southern states are Republican by large majorities, and that they are now in the hands of the Democratic party solely through force, fraud, intimidation, and failure to enforce the principles herein set forth.

Third.—The permanent pacification of the southern section of the Union, and the complete protection of all its citizens in all their civil, political, personal and property rights, is a duty to which the Republican party stands sacredly pledged. In order to redress this pledge it placed the recent amendment in the Constitution of the United States, and upon the righteous basis of said amendments it will go forward in the work of pacification until peace shall come through right doing and contentment through justice.

Fourth.—The new Democratic dogma of home rule, which seeks to shut out from participation in the political affairs of the southern states the citizen who opposes the Democratic party and its opponents, the Democratic party and its opponents natives of the states, and in obedience to the spirit of which every man from the north of Republican sentiments is termed "carpet-bagger" is hereby denounced as the worst phase of state rights yet developed, and we demand for the people of Iowa absolute freedom to go whithersoever they may please within the limits of the nation, with perfect enjoyment of their rights as citizens, to utter their sentiments by speech or in the press upon all subjects touching their interests and all matters of public concern.

Fifth.—The armed conflict between traitors and rebels who sought to destroy the Republic, and the patriots who defended it and preserved it, was more than a mere trial of physical force between Greeks. It was a struggle of right against wrong, of a true civilization against a false one. Whoever regards the Republican and Democratic parties from other stand points than this fails to understand their character.

It is evident that the Iowa Republicans have not forgotten the old doctrines of the Republican party. There is no whining nor musing nor pulling in their language. They give the cold shoulder to the flunkies and hypocrites of the present. They seem to be aware that Republican principles have not changed since the American people thought it necessary to defend them by summoning armories and navies, and by a vast expenditure of treasure and blood. They do not by hypocritical retractions admit that they have been in the wrong for the last twenty years, nor announce a policy which concedes all of a resolution expelling the accused when Congress again assembled. The affair is not likely to end here, for the Doc Juan comes from a locality where he will be compelled to vindicate his insulted honor. A challenge, therefore, in full all probability be sent to Gen. Rosser for the part he took in protecting the lady assaulted.

JNO. SHERMAN THE NEXT PRESIDENT.

We said sometime ago that if the democratic party kept on they would show the world that Jno. Sherman was the most honest statesman that had been in public life for the last twenty years, and in consequence he would be made the next President of the United States, and we believe it now more than ever, as our predictions have come true. The Chicago Inter Ocean in publishing certain extracts from one of the Democratic witnesses before the Potter investigating committee says:

SHERMAN AND MRS. JENKS.

If the Potter committee go on at the present rate much longer they will convince the country that at least there was one honest man among the "visiting statesmen" and that man was John Sherman.

It is rather strange how the investigation that started out with the almost positive assurance that Mr. Sherman would be surely caught, has so far contributed in all directions to the impression that he is an exceptionally honest man.

When Anderson called on the Secretary of the Treasury, he related how the latter received him coldly, and when obligations were hinted at, and rewards for political services suggested, Mr. Speaker Cannon and Morrison, two of the old leaders, ex-Senator James Harlan, who was a member of Lincoln's Cabinet, stepped to the front at the state Republican convention of Iowa held at Des Moines on the 19th of June, as the presiding officer. From that body also came clarion notes. Its declarations have flashed across the continent like an electrical light, and filled with a new inspiration the hearts of the stalwart Republicans. fright'd lady listener on the outside, and prompted by her chivalric Rosser went around to the door of the room, and finding it locked, and hearing still the sounds of a struggle, burst it in. To his great indignation, he discovered the Congressman above described, all flushed with wine, offering a lady a most gross insult. The lady, who was the daughter of a great statesman and strength, seized the offender who is of bare medium height and of dandy figure, and hurled him against the wall, knocking him almost senseless. The lady so gallantly rescued faints at her delivery, but was soon brought to with the aid of restoratives and taken home in a carriage. She is a most estimable and beautiful person and is the sister-in-law of a northern Congressman, whose wife, her sister, is also famous for her beauty.

Owing to the eminent respectability of all the parties concerned the affair was hushed up, and would, perhaps, have escaped the present revelation, had not a few words concerning it escaped one of the parties at a breakfast table this morning.

JNO. C. GORMAN AND THE ASHVILLE PIONEER.

We welcome to the brotherhood of newspaper editors, in North Carolina, Gen. Jno. C. Gorman, one of the very best fellows that ever drew a sword or shewed a quill. May he meet with the success that his qualifications, great energies and devotion to Republicanism deserves. The Pioneer, under his control, will be a credit to Asheville, and a bold advocate of true Union Republican principles which every American should be proud of. We publish him as one of the famous cavalry chief-tains on the rebel side.

The story has been generally circulated by members of Congress remaining in Washington, and the facts as narrated have caused the deepest indignation among those acquainted with the guilty party. One member, who is known as prominent and influential in the House, said that this disgraceful conduct would warrant the offering of a resolution expelling the accused when Congress again assembled. The affair is not likely to end here, for the Doc Juan comes from a locality where he will be compelled to vindicate his insulted honor. A challenge, therefore, in full all probability be sent to Gen. Rosser for the part he took in protecting the lady assaulted.

Sherman had said so; but I do not believe he ever made the statement. It seems to us that nothing that could be said would impress the public with the strictly honorable part that Mr. Sherman has played in this business more than the testimony of these two witnesses. Schemes, devices, dis�able bargains, there were, but there was a "machining" which stood at fair and clear of all of them, and brought up with a sharp rebuff even those who were supposed to be his strongest political allies, when the latter suggested bargaining and rewards for trickery.

We do not know what subsequent testimony may develop, but we are very confident that Mr. Sherman will not suffer from any evidence that may be presented. The way he rebuffed the political gamblers who came to him, lends force to the conviction that whatever others have been, John Sherman has maintained his honor and his manhood unsullied throughout.

We do not know what subsequent testimony may develop, but we are very confident that Mr. Sherman will not suffer from any evidence that may be presented. The way he rebuffed the political gamblers who came to him, lends force to the conviction that whatever others have been, John Sherman has maintained his honor and his manhood unsullied throughout.

Grand Republican Convention in Edgecombe.—Great Outpouring of the People.—Largest Crowd Ever at a Convention in Tarboro—Demand for Whole Republican Ticket.—Speeches of Jno. C. Dancy and Joe Norfleet.—The Long Abuses of Political Power at Last Corrected—Ring Broken up.—The Whole People Declare They Will Support the New Ticket.—Strong Resolutions.

TARBORO, N. C., June 25, 1878.

MR. EDITOR.—The largest gathering that has been seen upon attendance at a Convention, was here last Saturday to witness the proceeding of the Mass Convention of the Republicans of Edgecombe county.

Early in the morning squads of men could have been seen making their way forward as hasty as possible towards the court house, where they were eager to learn what business was to be transacted, and whether the party had given up all hopes of success as they had put Democrats on the ticket. All became satisfied as to the true condition of affairs, and demanded that a new ticket should be put in the field consisting solely of tried and true Republicans.

By 10 o'clock there were estimated to have been 2,000 people in the enclosure of the court house yard. Every one was discussing political issues, concluding that the party could only be preserved by united action, and supporting none others than Republicans for office. Enthusiasm was never greater in this county. Every man declared that he would support any Republican ticket, but would not vote at all before he would vote for a mixed Democratic-Republican ticket.

At precisely 10 o'clock the court house bell rang and everybody endeavored to get up and get seats, but many of their efforts were vain, as several could not get to the stairway. No such crowd has ever before been witnessed seeking entrance there. By request J. C. Dancy, Esq., acted temporary chairman. He called the convention to order amid loud applause, and proceeded to tell the reasons of the gathering. It is impossible for us to give a full report of his speech.

Mr. Dancy delivered a very able speech, which I know you cannot spare the room too publish.

After the address of Mr. Dancy, on his motion, Hon. John Norfleet was by vote unanimously chosen permanent chairman of the Convention. He accepted the position in a neat speech giving a history of Conventions and what they were intended for.

We here strike out a large portion of the communication giving Mr. N.'s address as it is to long to publish.

John C. Dancy, was then elected secretary.

Delegates were present from all the townships (14) except one. Their credentials were duly examined and certified to by the committee consisting of Ashey Hines, Dred Wimbsey and J. R. Stanton.

Nominations were declared in order, whereupon, the following ticket was nominated:

For the Senate—F. D. Dancy.

For the House—Clinton L. Battle, Eldred Wimberly.

Clerk of the Superior Court—Dr. W. A. Dugan.

Sheriff—Battie Bryan.

Register of Deeds—John Norfleet.

Coroner—Clem S. Camper.

Jams Norfleet, Esq., and John C. Dancy, were elected delegates to the Congressional Convention. Dred Wimberly, J. P. Howard, Dr. Alex. Dugan and G. W. Robbins, alternates.

The following series of resolutions were offered and adopted amid loud applause.

WHEREAS, Certain persons, for their own selfish ends, not having in view the interests of the great Republican party, and against the remonstrances and protests of a majority of the Republicans of Edgecombe county, did recently conspire together, and by chicanery and other means, make up a ticket for the approaching campaign, which contains the name of an out-spoken Democrat, and is otherwise objectionable to Republicans; and

WHEREAS, We believe that to subserve the principles of the Republican party, it becomes all men delegated with authority, to support no man for office except he be of that party, which many of the delegates to the last so-called Convention failed to observe, contrary to the injunctions of their people; and

WHEREAS, We believe that to cease supporting true men of the Republican party is a virtual surrender to the enemy, and a disbandment of our forces; an event we look forward to with anxiety and alarm; recognizing the fact that we have a most important state election before us, and knowing that the Republicans of the county will not support their mixed ticket, knowing also, that where principle is involved concessions are dangerous and compromise disastrous to a party; therefore we the Republicans of Edgecombe county, in Mass Convention assembled, do resolve,

1st, That we re-affirm our fealty and allegiance to the Republican party and none other.

2d, That we will not support, or otherwise give countenance to any ticket gotten up by a so-called Republican convention which shall contain the name of a Democrat thereon.

3rd, That we earnestly protest against and denounce the nomination of Democrats on our ticket, as well as the manner in which it is done, believing it to be another stab at our party, and we protest not for ourselves alone, but for the one hundred and ten thousand true Republicans in our state as well.

4th, That inasmuch as the delegates recently appointed to represent this county in the Congressional Convention were appointed illegally and against the sanction of the people, or the shadow of form precedent, with instructions (so-called) to vote for a person who is not the choice of this people, we will rescind such action, and elect this day in open Convention, bona-fide delegates to said Congressional Convention, said delegates being uninstructed and unpledged.

5th, That we deem it expedient for the safety and preservation of the Republican party to pledge our support to any ticket which shall be composed of Republicans in opposition to the mixed ticket, which support we do here uncompromisingly pledge now, and on the day of election.

6th, That until the next regular Republican Convention in the county, we will repudiate the present Chairman of the county and tender the position to James Norfleet, Esq., whose orders in that capacity we will observe, and from none other.

7th, After giving three rousing clerks to the leaders and the Republican party, the vast crowd dispersed feeling much benefitted at being present. All apprehensions of defeat or split have fled, as it is evident the full strength of the party will be given to the present ticket.
